

I subscribe to a newspaper (See above) which only publishes positive news from around the world, which is so refreshing and uplifting, and I am sharing articles with the children in school. It inspired me to inspire our children to think about happy news, and so to start the term off, I held an assembly on 'Happiness' and we discussed how we could make ourselves, and each other happy, along with ways we could do our bit to make our world a better place for the future. Below are just a few of the responses from each class...enjoy!
